

WHO IS TELLING THE TRUTH: CHARLES TAZE RUSSELL OR “JUDGE” RUTHERFORD?

The following letter was sent to me by Roy Milton, author of Truth or Consequences. He submitted it to the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society in 1999 and, as expected, received no response.

For those who may not know, Russell was the founder of the original group of International Bible Students, now known as Jehovah's Witnesses and Rutherford was his successor as the first president of what is known today as the Watchtower organization, the organization that governs Jehovah's Witnesses.

The letter humorously speaks for itself and needs no further introduction.

Dear Brothers;

I have a question, which no one has been able to answer for me thus far. It has been causing me a great deal of distress and worry. I hope you can help me.

This is my problem: My hairline has been receding lately thus causing my forehead to appear progressively higher. On the other hand, however, I appear to be getting progressively balder. Pastor Russell told us that a high forehead indicated a higher degree of intelligence and Brother Rutherford said in the finished mystery book on page 165 that bald headed people have excess gas trapped in the brain due to clogged follicles, thereby causing them to be confused.

My question is: Am I getting progressively more intelligent or progressively more confused? Can you understand my dilemma, and can you help me.

Can you, also, advise me if there is a point on the head that intelligence stops and stupidity begins, and where that spot is?

This question has got me very CONFUSED. Oh no! It's starting to happen to me.

Sincerely;

Roy
